

MAP Growth Instructional Connections

The freedom to choose the curriculum resources that support growth for your students

Why let an assessment limit your instructional choices? With the MAP® Growth™ Instructional Connections program, you can connect the nation's most accurate assessment data with over 30 of the most popular instructional tools to create personalized learning pathways for your students.

Sharing MAP Growth data with one of our 30+ instructional connections:

- Saves class time: Reduce time spent assessing students in the supplemental resources by using precise MAP Growth data
- Differentiates instruction: Provide students with instructional content aligned to their individualized learning needs
- Supports individual and group learning: Create personalized learning pathways for 1:1 support and small- and large-group learning
- Provides instructional guidance for teachers: Generate instructional resources that help inform lesson planning

Ensuring the highest quality instructional connections

We collaborate with educators around the world to identify trusted instructional tools that drive academic growth, and then we establish partnerships to integrate MAP Growth data with those instructional tools. We ensure the content is:

- Standards-aligned, with appropriate depth and instructional relevance
- Built for diverse student populations
- Considerate of accessibility and accommodation needs
- Built on effective instructional best practices
- Engaging across multiple modes of student learning

Below are just a few of the 30+ providers that are part of our Instructional Connections program. To see the full list of partners, click on the “Products” tab at NWEA.org and select “Instructional Connections.”
